WHERE SHALL I SPEND THE SUMMER?

At Mt. Philo Inn
Charlotte, Vt.

On the Rutland Railroad, Sixteen Miles South of Burlington
Mount Philo Inn

Mount Philo Inn, shown on opposite page, is located in one of the richest sections of the Champlain Valley, overlooking the level country which stretches like a park for more than sixty miles, and facing a grand panorama of Lake Champlain and of the Adirondacks, extending for ninety miles, from Mount Lyon in the North to the Lake George Mountains in the South.
High Rock

Mount Philo is a charming and easily accessible elevation, half-way between the Adirondacks and the Green Mountains, and commanding a full view of each range for more than a hundred miles and about sixty miles of Lake Champlain. It was named after Philo, an old Indian, who, in the early days of Vermont, lived near its summit and often befriended the early settlers. From its summit the Indians kept careful vigil of all movements on the lake and the surrounding valleys, and used it as a signal station during their many wars.
Mountain Road

Mount Philo has many attractions and is daily visited by pleasure seekers who enjoy the beautiful drives and walks about the mountain, through pine and maple groves, where mosses, ferns and wild flowers abound.
The Tower, Mount Philo

The Tower is fifty feet high and is erected upon the highest point on the summit of Mount Philo from which can be had the finest view in New England.
Mount Philo Inn

The Inn is a restful, comfortable home, where all the little details are considered for the comfort and convenience of the guests. The buildings are new with modern improvements. A fine table furnished with the best of fresh country fare, milk, eggs, fruit and vegetables, fresh from our own farm. Pure spring water and a good living, render it one of the most desirable places in the country to spend the summer.
Rest Awhile

Here one will find the quiet rest of the country, or on the other hand, abundant opportunity for pleasure.

Mount Philo Inn and its cottages nestle on the Southern slope of Mount Philo one and one-half miles from the summit by carriage road, and one mile by foot path.
Mountain Road

All enjoy the quiet freedom of this country home where there is room and attractions for all, however diversified may be their tastes. Here guests return from year to year, bringing their friends with them.

The mountain road threading its way through open fields and woods affords a variety and intensity of scenic beauty seldom equalled in New England.
Wayside Shelter

A spot so favored by nature is rarely found. The summer houses that are built on the roadside leading to the summit are attractive and delightfully refreshing to those who wish to climb the mountain. Lots will be leased to parties wishing to build cottages. Tents to rent by the week or season.
Pleasure Trips

Excursions on the beautiful Lake Champlain and drives through the lovely country round about are among the many diversions that go to make life pleasant at this resort.

There is good fishing for the sportsman in the lake, three miles from the Inn. Pure health-restoring air for all. Guests who give previous notice will be met at the station. Terms $3.00 per day, $14.00 to $18.00 per week. Special rates to parties desiring to remain the whole season. Correspondence solicited.
